RUSSIAN LEGAL SYSTEM IN CONDITIONS OF THE FORTH INDUSTRIAL REVOLUTION

April 4-6, 2019

Kutafin Moscow State Law University (MSAL)
9, Sadovaya-Kudrinskaya Street, Moscow, Russia

Moscow Legal Forum is Russia's major legal event held by Kutafin Moscow State Law University (MSAL) in partnership with the Association of Lawyers of Russia and the Institute of Legislation and Comparative Law under the Government of the Russian Federation gathering international legal professionals from all fields: academics, reputable practitioners, judges, and government officials.

Over the years, Members of the Federal Assembly and the Government of the Russian Federation, ministries officials, judges of the Constitutional and the Supreme courts, as well as partners of top international and Russian law firms repeatedly participated the Forum and appreciated both substantial and organizational aspects.

This year the forum will be held on April 4 – 6. The overall topic is Russian Legal System in Conditions of the Forth Industrial Revolution. It is destined to provide an opportunity for comprehensive discussion on various subjects of national, comparative, and international law. The forum will include panel discussions, conferences, round-tables, seminars, exhibition, and presentations concerning all major subjects of law.

At the same time, student forum will be held similarly providing platform for discussion of different topics.

If you are interested in participating, please write to international@msal.ru.

You can download Information Letter with the list of the events held within the Forum. The list may be further expanded and is open for suggestions.
